2. SUMMARY OF SIGNIFICANT ACCOUNTING POLICIES (CONTINUED)

2.4 Property, Plant And Equipment and Depreciation

Property, plant and equipment are stated at cost less accumulated depreciation and accumulated impairment losses, if any. Depreciation/amortisation is provided on the straight line method in order to write off each asset over its estimated useful life.

The principal annual rates used for these purpose are:-

Leasehold land	Over lease period
Computers	20%
Shelter	10%

Depreciation of an asset begins when it is ready for its intended use. The residence values and useful lives of depreciable assets, if significant, are reviewed at the end of each reporting period.

The carrying amounts of items of property, plant and equipment are derecognized on disposal or when no future economic benefits are expected their use on disposal.

Any gain or loss arising from the derecognition of items of property, plant and equipment, determined as the different between the net disposal proceeds, if any, and the carrying amounts of the item, is included in profit or loss. Neither the sale proceeds nor any gain on disposal is classified as revenue.

2.5 Financial Instruments

Arising from the adoption of FRS 139, Financial Instruments: Recognition and Measurement, with effect from 1 January 2010, financial instruments are categorized and measured using accounting policies as mentioned below.

i) Initial recognition and measurement

A financial instrument is recognized in the financial statements when, and only when, the Company becomes a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument.

A financial instrument is recognized initially, at its fair value plus, in the case of a financial instrument not at fair value through profit or loss, transaction costs that are directly attributable to the acquisition or issue of the financial instrument.

An embedded derivative is recognized separately from the host contract and accounted for as a derivative if, and only if, it is not closely related to economic characteristics and risks of the host contract and the host contract is not categorized at fair value through profit or loss. The host contract, in the event an embedded derivative is recognized separately, is accounted for in accordance with policy applicable to the nature of the host contract.

ii) Financial Instrument Categories And Subsequent Measurement

Financial Assets

Financial assets are recognised in the statements of financial position when the Company become a party to the contractual provisions of the instrument. Regular way purchases and sales of financial assets are recognised and derecognised using trade date accounting.

On initial recognition, financial assets are measured at fair value, plus transaction costs for financial assets not at 'fair value through profit or loss'.

Effective interest method is a method of calculating the amortised cost of financial assets and of allocating the interest income over the relevant period. The effective interest rate is the rate that exactly discounts estimate future cash receipts through the expected life of the financial assets or a shorter period to the net carrying amount of the financial assets.

After initial recognition, financial assets are classified into one of four categories: financial assets at 'fair value through profit or loss', 'held-to-maturity' investments, loans and receivables and 'available-for-sale' financial assets.

a) Financial Assets At 'Fair Value Through Profit Or Loss'

After initial recognition, financial assets at 'fair value through profit or loss' are measured at fair value. Gains or losses on the financial assets at 'fair value through profit or loss' are recognised in profit or loss.

b) 'Held-To-Maturity' Investments

'Held-to-maturity' investments are non-derivative financial assets with fixed or determinable payments and fixed maturity that the Yayasan have the positive intention and ability to hold to maturity.

YAYASAN HASH HERITAGE
(A Company Limited By Guarantee and Incorporated in Malaysia)

b) 'Held-To-Maturity' Investments (Continued)

After initial recognition, 'held-to-maturity' investments are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method less any accumulated impairment losses. Gains or losses are recognised in profit or loss when 'held-to-maturity' investments are derecognised or impaired.

c) Loans and Receivables

Loans and receivables are non-derivative financial assets (such as trade receivables, loans assets, unquoted debt instruments and deposits held in banks) with fixed or determinable payments that are not quoted in an active market.

After initial recognition, loans and receivables are measured at amortised cost using the effective interest method less any accumulated impairment losses. Gains or losses are recognised in profit or loss when loans and receivables are derecognised or impaired.

Loans and receivables are classified as current assets, except for those having maturity dates later than 12 months after the reporting date which are classified as non-current.

d) 'Available-For-Sale' Financial Assets

Investment in quoted equity and debt instruments that are traded in active market and certain unquoted equity instruments (when the fair value can be determined using a valuation technique) are classified as 'available-for-sale' financial assets. 'Available-for-sale' financial assets are measured at fair value.

Gains or losses on 'available-for-sale' financial assets are recognised in other comprehensive income, except for impairment losses and foreign exchange gains or losses, until the 'available-for-sale' financial assets are derecognised. At that time, the cumulative gains or losses previously recognised in other comprehensive income are reclassified from equity to profit or loss as a reclassification adjustment.

Interest calculated using the effective interest method is recognised in profit or loss. Dividends on 'available-for-sale' equity instruments are recognised in profit or loss when the Company's right to receive payment is established.

e) Reclassifications Of Financial Assets

The Company do not reclassify derivative out of the 'fair value through profit or loss' category while they are held or in issue. Equally, the Company do not reclassify other financial assets out of the 'fair value through profit or loss' category if upon initial recognition, those financial assets were designated as at 'fair value through profit or loss'. Other financial assets are not reclassified into the 'fair value through profit or loss' category after initial recognition under another category. When it is no longer appropriate to classify an investment as 'held-to-maturity' as a result of a change in intention and ability, the investment is reclassified as held for sale and re-measured at fair value. Any difference between the carrying amount and fair value of the investment is recognised in other comprehensive income.

f) Derecognition Of Financial Assets

Financial assets are derecognised when the contractual rights to the cash flows from the financial assets has expired. On derecognition of financial assets in their entirety, the differences between the carrying amounts and the sum of the consideration received and any cumulative gains or losses that have been recognised in other comprehensive income are recognised in profit or loss.

iii) Impairment Of Non-Financial Assets

The Company assesses at each reporting date whether there is an indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, or when an annual impairment assessment for an asset is required, the Company makes an estimate of the asset's recoverable amount.

An asset's recoverable amount is the higher of an asset's fair value less costs to sell and its value in use. Impairment losses are recognised in profit or loss.

YAYASAN HASH HERITAGE
(A Company Limited By Guarantee and Incorporated in Malaysia)

iii) Impairment Of Non-Financial Assets (Continued)

An assessment is made at each reporting date as to whether there is any indication that previously recognised impairment losses may no longer exist or may have decreased. A previously recognised impairment loss is reversed only if there has been a change in the estimates used to determine the asset's recoverable amount since the last impairment loss was recognised. If that is the case, the carrying amount of the asset is increased to its recoverable amount. That increase cannot exceed the carrying amount that would have been determined, net of depreciation, had no impairment loss been recognised previously. Such reversal is recognised in profit and loss.

Impairment losses are recognised in profit or loss.

iv) Impairment Of Financial Assets

Receivables that are assessed not to be impaired individually are subsequently assessed for impairment on a collective basis based on similar risk characteristics. Objective evidence of impairment of receivables could include the Company's past experience of collecting payments, an increase in the number of delayed payments past the average credit period and observable changes in economic conditions.

If any such evidence exists, the amount of impairment loss is measured as the difference between the asset's carrying amount and the present value of estimated future cash flows discounted at the financial asset's original effective interest rate. The impairment loss is recognised in profit or loss.

The carrying amount of the financial asset is reduced by the impairment loss except for receivables, where the carrying amount is reduced through the use of an allowance account. When a receivable becomes uncollectible, it is written off against the allowance account.

If in a subsequent period, the amount of the impairment loss decreases as a result of an event occurring after the impairment was recognised, the previously recognised impairment loss is reversed to the extent that the carrying amount of the asset does not exceed its amortised cost at the reversal date. The amount of reversal is recognised in profit or loss.
